HONG KONG.

April 17.—The villagers of Tai-Poo-Su, one of the newly acquired places in the British territory on the Hong Kong mainland, who broke out in rebellion on Friday, burned some of the British barracks and then retired to the hills, fired upon the British troops who were sent to quell the disturbance.

The British returned the fire, scattering the Chinese and killing some.

The British suffered no casualties.

As the result of the conflict the Governor of Hong Kong went immediately in the cruiser Blisk, with another regiment, and hoisted the British flag in Kow-Loon Extension.

The Chinese headmen sent a deputation to apologize for the disorders.

Papal Intermunio at The Hague to Leave the City.

Rome, April 16.—The Tribune asserts that the Papal Intermunio at The Hague has been ordered to absent himself from the city before the meeting of the Peace Conference on May 18.

Assuming that the statement of the Tribune is correct, the instructions to the Intermunio are the Vatican's protest against non-representation at the Peace Conference, which the Italian Government insisted upon as a condition precedent to sending an Italian delegate.

VERDI IS COMPOSING HIS "SWAN SONG."

Veteran Maestro Creating the New Opera, "King Lear," with All the Energy of Youth.

Rome, April 16.—Verdi, the veteran maestro, is writing a new opera. Its title is "King Lear," but as he is so old that he stands upon the brink of the Great Mystery it is referred to as his "Swan Song." The aged master is very busy at his composition and holds himself in seclusion at his residence at Genoa, where Bolto, who is said to have put together a splendid libretto, has been his constant companion for the past three months.

Not much is known of the character of the new work, but it is asserted that the maestro intends to greatly modify his style as exemplified in "Falstaff," returning to that which produced such gems of melody as are found in the "Traviata."

STONES THROWN INTO THE COLLEGE OF FRANCE.

Strange Attacks by Mysterious Vandals Upon the Famous and Venerable Institution.

Paris, April 16.—One of the oldest and most mysterious attacks on record is being made almost daily upon that venerable institution, the College of France. The assaults consist of the hurling of stones through the windows of the building. While M. Gaston Paris, rector of the institution, and successor to Ernest Renan, was sitting in his study, a large paving stone crashed through a window and fell at his feet.

The police have been able to catch no one.

Several Thousand Insurgents Gather at One Part of the Lake While Lawton Is at Another.

Manila, April 16.—During the absence of Major-General Lawton's expedition to the Samar Cruz district, on the southeastern side of Laguna de Bay, the insurgents have been concentrating at the northern end of the lake, near Pasig, and the American scouts report that several thousand are already there.

General Lawton's expedition is now on its way back.

Two hundred and fifty Chinamen from Samar Cruz have arrived here. They left the town owing to their fear that the rebels, on re-entering it, would wreak vengeance upon them for favoring the Americans.

RIOTS IN THE SPANISH ELECTIONS: ONE KILLED.

In Madrid the Day Passed Quietly, but in the Provinces Much Trouble Occurred.

Madrid, April 16.—In Madrid the election passed off tranquilly. Five Conservatives, two Liberals and one Republican are returned. In the provinces returns are incomplete. Fighting runs high and many free fights occurred in Bilbao. Ministerialists and Socialists came to blows and six were dangerously wounded. In Valencia a Republican meeting ended in a general fight and the military drove the combatants out of the building and dispersed them.

At Granada an election agent was murdered.

SPANISH AUDIENCE JEERS EMMA NEVADA.

The American Singer, Emma Nevada.

On account of the bad treatment she received in Seville, Spain, she has cancelled her engagements there. She says the time is not ripe for an American Minister to go to Spain.

Gross Insult to the American Prima Donna—She Says "the Time Is Not Ripe to Send a Minister to Spain."

Special Cable to the Journal and Advertiser.

PARIS.

April 16.—Emma Nevada, the widely known American prima donna, has just arrived here from Seville, bringing with her a story of brutality toward her by an audience at the Royal Opera House there.

Because of the humiliations to which she was subjected, she cancelled a six months' engagement to sing in Spain, although the Queen Regent tried to repair the wrongs inflicted by her subjects. The singer sums up the situation in Spain, as shown by the feeling exhibited toward her, long a great favorite in that country, in these words:

"The time is not yet ripe to send an American Minister to Spain."

I had a talk with Miss Nevada today. "Though all of the words in the Opera House were sold for my opening night," said she, "and engagements were made that would more than fill the place, there was no one, excepting detectives and policemen in the house during the whole of the first act. The opera was 'Linda'."

"In marked disrespect the audience came in for the second act and the house was crowded. The women, however, turned their backs on me and would not look at the stage. The effort to insult me was so obvious that the English Consul called on me between the acts and talked with me of the unpleasant situation."

"My dear girl," he said to me, "you must get out of here."

"I was determined to stay until the opera had been sung, and I did so, but at its conclusion the audience turned on me furiously and hurled all sorts of abuse at me. I found that where I had once been friends I now had practically none. I paid visits to old friends, but they declined to make any more visits."

"Well, the upshot of it was that the city and country were unbearable, and I cancelled my six months' engagement and started for Paris. When I reached Madrid the news had preceded me and had reached the ears of the Queen. She tried to make up for the insult, inviting me to a soiree and presenting me with a gold bracelet. I certainly do not think that it would be pleasant in Spain for an American diplomat to stand at a table and wrapped in an American flag. She was then three years old."

In 1878 Miss Nevada made a tour of the principal cities of Spain, and was warmly received that she counts that season the most brilliant of her career. At Madrid the Queen attended the opera to hear her sing. Her first appearance at the Grand Theatre, Cal, was most patriotic. In aid of a local charity she sang the "Star Spangled Banner," standing at a table and wrapped in an American flag. She was then three years old."

Miss Nevada's story of the temper of the Spanish will no doubt be read with interest by Bellamy Storer, who has been ordered to leave Madrid a few days ago. Her California appearances made her little fame, but in Spain she was so enthusiastic that her reputation was made.

One day a nephew of the owners of the estate, the dashing young Lieutenant Prince Nechindow, came on a visit and the fate of the young girl was sealed. Here the old story of Cupid's victory repeated itself. The girl is abandoned by him afterward in a most cruel fashion. The extent of the Lieutenant's generosity consisted in giving the girl 100 roubles.

Driven from the home of her childhood, despoiled and rejected by her village friends, Masslowa descended rapidly.

Tudor pictures with evangelical simplicity the thorn-strewn road which Masslowa is made to follow in order to become one number in the village prison.

Toward the close of the novel the author shows himself a fanatical follower of the doctrine of the Christ that one should forgive the sins of others even if he has offended seventy times seven times. Before her death Masslowa forgives all.

PRINCE GHILKA NOW A CIRCUS MANAGER.

After Running Through His Patrimony He Is Glad to Find Occupation in the Sawdust Ring.

Vienna, April 16.—Prince Ghilka, a son of one of the oldest Rumanian families, has succeeded in making himself talked of again. When he was scarcely in his teens he exhibited marked Bohemian taste that greatly alarmed his family. In spite of their restrictions, however, he succeeded in breaking away from the parental apron strings and marrying a circus artiste before he attained his majority.

This, of course, resulted in his being disowned by his father, but it did not prevent his inheriting the family estates upon the death of his parents. He soon went through his money and for the first time in his career was forced to take a serious view of life.

Under the tutelage of his wife he was enabled to obtain an engagement in the circus. Now it seems he has proved so efficient that the management have given him a position of authority, and he now enjoys the distinction of being the only Prince who is the manager of a circus.

GERMAN CRUISER RAN ON A PACIFIC REEF.

The Cormoran, While Sailing from China to Samoa, Stuck Hard and Fast for Six Days.

Brisbane, Queensland, April 16.—The German protected cruiser Cormoran, en route for Samoa from China, has arrived here. She reports that on March 23 she struck a reef in the Bismarck archipelago, between Kaiser Wilhelm's Land and New Ireland, where she remained fast for six days.

The cruiser will proceed to Sydney, N. S. W., for repairs.

Berlin, April 16.—The protected cruiser Cormoran is just now the only German vessel on her way to strengthen the German force at the Bismarck archipelago.

The gunboat Moewe has arrived at Matupi, New Britain, off the coast of Kaiser Wilhelm's Land, the German protectorate in southeast Papua, from which point she may be ordered to Aiala speedily if the situation should demand it.

Both the Cormoran (1,000 tons displacement) and the Moewe (845 tons displacement) are much smaller and of less fighting power than the protected cruiser Hertha, 5,500 tons displacement, which is now on the way to Asian waters, where, on her arrival, the total German squadron will have a displacement of 40,000 tons and an equipment of 3,400 men.

The protected cruiser Geler (1,770 tons displacement) is now beginning a cruise along the Pacific coast of the United States.

SPAIN SWALLOWS A BITTER PILL.

MADRID, April 16.—The Official Gazette to-day contains a royal decree appointing the Duke de Arcos to be Spanish Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States.

The decree also creates CONSULS at Havana, Manila, Hilo, San Juan de Porto Rico and Cienfuegos.

Senor Larrea, now Spanish Consul at Antwerp, is transferred to Havana; Senor Bouilla, now at Shanghai, is appointed to Manila; and Senor Urtate goes to Antwerp.

INOCULATED WITH GERMS.

Helpless Women and New-Born Infants Made the Medium for the Study of Bacteria.

Special Cable to the Journal and Advertiser.

(Copyright, 1899, by the New York Journal and Advertiser.)

LONDON, April 16.—The Abolitionist, a new anti-vivisection paper, contains a terrible indictment of inoculation and vivisection up to date, from the pen of a London physician, Dr. R. E. Dudgeon. In his exposure of the Continental practice of experimenting on living human beings Dr. Dudgeon says:

"The Deutsche Wochenschrift on February 19, 1891, describing how Professor Schreiber, of Koenigsberg, tried the effects of Dr. Koch's tuberculin, tells of injections on forty new-born children at the Koenigsberg Midwifery Hospital, in which the injections were about fifty times as much as Dr. Koch said was the maximum dose for children of three to five years. The experiments were designed to ascertain the effects of inoculations of various virulent bacteria on women and were conducted on a colossal scale."

"Dr. A. Doederlein relates how he inoculated a young unmarried woman with a microbe of pus. Dr. Menge, assistant physician in the University Hospital for Women in Leipzig, made similar inoculations on a woman who was in a most helpless condition. He also inoculated new-born infants with a large number of staphylococci in the Royal University Ear Hospital, in Halle."

"Dr. Schlimmshusch inoculated two boys with a pus culture taken from a boil on a girl's ear. Both boys died from purities. Dr. Janson, of Stockholm, wished to try the effects of inoculation of black or malignant smallpox virus on the legs with calves, but as he found them expensive he asked Professor Mehl, chief physician of the Foundling Hospital, to allow him to operate on children under his charge. Professor Mehl consented and fourteen children were inoculated with this virus."

"Dr. Epstein, professor of children's therapeutics, in Prague, infected five children with round worms for the sake of experiment. The rest of the article gives the chapter and verse for the allegation that again and again unsuspecting men and women have been inoculated with the most poisonous diseases by these Continental vivisectionists, masquerading as ministers of healing."

POPE LEO CELEBRATES THANKSGIVING MASS.

His Holiness Takes Part in the Ceremony Which Was Postponed on Account of His Illness.

Rome, April 16.—The thanksgiving mass at St. Peter's, which was postponed on account of the illness of His Holiness from the anniversary of the coronation, was celebrated to-day in the Basilica, which was thronged with diplomats, representatives of the Eastern patriarchates and foreign notables.

The Pope entered by an interior staircase, communicating with the Chapel of the Holy Sacrament, at halfpast 10 in the morning. He was preceded by a procession of cardinals and prelates. In full vestments and wearing the triple crown, he was carried along the great nave in the sedia gestatoria to the pontifical throne, the congregation raising loud acclamations until he took his seat.

Cardinal Camillo Mazzella, prefect of the Congregation of Sacred Rites, celebrated mass. At its close the Pope solemnly gave his blessing and was then borne back to his private apartments amid renewed acclamations.

The Supreme Pontiff looked as well as before his illness.

"MAD ARCHER" THREATENS IRVING.

Terriss's Slayer Sends Sir Henry a Death Notice from His Prison.

THE TRAGEDIAN LENIENT.

Could Have Secured the Assassin's Incarceration for Life, but Kept Incident Secret.

LONDON.

April 16.—It has come to publicity quite accidentally that Sir Henry Irving's life has been threatened by the mad actor, Richard Archer Prince, the murderer of Terriss, who had been released from the prison-asylum in which he is confined, that when he is released it is his purpose to kill him. He will make that his first business, he declares.

Sir Henry's friends advised him that the safe course for him to pursue would be to inform the Home Office of the threat, and so insure Prince's incarceration for life. The tragedian declined to take this step against the unfortunate man, but it is probable that the effect of the threatening letter will be just the same as if it had been formally referred to the Government, and that Prince will never be set free.

It is not known how Prince managed to get the letter out of his prison, and he will not be permitted to send another. After the murder of Terriss, at the stage door of the theatre, Prince, who had for years been known as "Mad Archer," and was supposed to be harmless, was found to be insane at a trial in Old Bailey.

He was committed to restraint "during Her Majesty's pleasure," and this indefinite sentence permits the Government to keep him a prisoner for life at will.

Sir Henry could have secured a tremendous advertisement by deftly allowing the fact that his life had been threatened to become public property, but he endeavored to conceal the incident, and it became known only through the indiscretion of a friend.

VICTORIA WILL BE EIGHTY ON MAY 24.

Will Celebrate the Anniversary at Windsor Castle, an Unusual Proceeding.

LONDON.

April 16.—Her Majesty the Queen will be eighty years old on May 24. For reason best known to herself she will celebrate the anniversary of her birth at Windsor Castle. It has been many years since Her Majesty observed the auspicious anniversary in the royal borough, and there is much jubilation in certain quarters because of her unusual decision.

The Queen will invite a large number of guests to Windsor Castle to take part in the celebration. The Waterloo Chamber is being turned into a theatre under the supervision of Mr. Leonard Colman, inspector of the Queen's palace, and on the birthday a performance of "Lothar" will be given there by the Covent Garden Royal Opera Company.

Her Majesty is expected back from the Continent early in May. She is now in the Riviera, and is in excellent health. Her activity is remarked. On a recent Sunday she, the royal family and the royal household attended divine service at Clonzie, where the Bishop of Ripon preached. She went out with the Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein. Later, she gave an audience to the Marquis of Salisbury.

In the afternoon she drove out with the Countess of Antrim and the Hon. Mrs. Mallesher and called on the Duchess Alexandrine of Coburg. At dinner in the evening the Queen entertained Admiral Sir John Ross, the Frenchman, was second, and Tom Linton, of Wales, third. J. Frank Starbuck, of Philadelphia, abandoned the contest midway.

This day is an illustration of the active life the veteran ruler is leading.

Paris, April 16.—The first great bicycle match of the season came off at the Parc des Princes. Walters, the Frenchman, was second, and Tom Linton, of Wales, third. J. Frank Starbuck, of Philadelphia, abandoned the contest midway.

She Was Mother of Consuelo Vanderbilt's Ducal Consort.

ILL ONLY A SHORT TIME.

Bronchial Catarrh the Immediate Cause of Her Passing Away.

LONDON.

April 16.—Lady Frances Anne Emily, Duchess of Marlborough, daughter of the third Marquis of Londonderry and widow of the seventh Duke of Marlborough, died suddenly this morning of bronchial catarrh, after a short illness, at the residence of her daughter, Lady Anne Emily, Duchess of Roxburghe, widow of the seventh Duke of Roxburghe.

The deceased was married on November 8, 1867, to the late Duke of Marlborough, who was the father of the present Duke, husband of Consuelo Vanderbilt.

Before her marriage she was Lady Alherche Frances Anne Hamilton, the daughter of the Duke of Athol.

In 1883 she succeeded in having her marriage with the Duke dissolved on statutory grounds.
